

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Times are changing!

Learning Outcome

Describe the reasons or results of events or actions in spoken or written texts, in work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What devices do you have now that your parents didn't have?
- Do you think the devices you have now make life more or less complicated? Why or why not?

Can Do Statements

- I can express emotions and feelings.
- I can talk about the time of different actions.
- I can talk about technology and gadgets.

Let's Explore!

Marisa introduces the premise behind her book.

* A "premise" is an idea or theory.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Denise: I am thrilled to see so many of you here tonight. We are gathered here today to celebrate the official release of Miss Marisa Mitchell's book! It has been a tremendous honor for BFP to work with her. And now, without any further ado, please put your hands together and give a warm welcome to the star of the night.

Marisa: Denise, thank you so very much for those kind words. The honor's all mine. You run a tight ship. And to all of you, thank you so much for taking the time out to come and support me. Your support has been ... just overwhelming. Ever since I was in junior high, I knew I wanted to be a writer. I didn't know what I would write about but I knew I would have a great idea one day. And it wasn't until I became a mother, that this idea came to life. As soon as I had my daughter, everything changed. The way I viewed at the world had changed. When I was a child, social media didn't exist. I would spend hours upon hours playing outside. But as many of you know, that isn't the case now. Children are glued to their screens. While my daughter was growing up, I found she was becoming more and more unmotivated. I was unsettled by the fact that she knew how to use all these different devices. She could find videos on the internet, she wanted her own flash drive, she would spend hours on her games console with a controller or joystick in her hand. While the digital age has helped improve our lives, as parents we can be perplexed and overwhelmed by advancing technology. What new devices will pop up? How long will it be before technology takes over our children's lives? Or until people are walking around wearing an optical head-mounted display? It was questions like this, that lead to the premise behind Winnie's World.

Let's Practice!

Marissa talks about why she wrote the book.

Instructions: Use the words from the Word Bank to correctly complete the sentences. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

Word Bank

wanted her own flash / has been / I looked at the /
I knew I / was unsettled by the fact

1. It _____ a tremendous honour for BFP to work with her.
2. _____ wanted to write a book, to become an author.
3. The way _____ world had changed.
4. I _____ that she knew how to use all these devices.
5. She _____ drive and would spend hours on her games console with a controller or joystick stuck to her hand.

Let's Practice!

Marisa talks about how technology is shaping our lives.

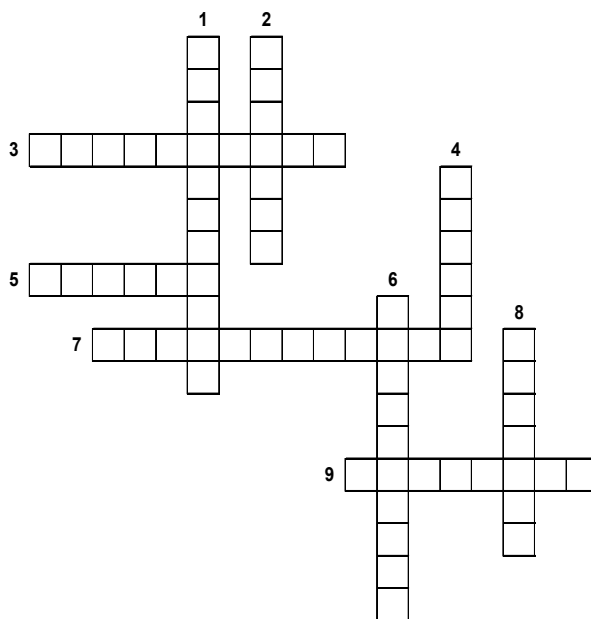

Instructions: Read the clues to correctly complete the crossword.

Down

1. Worn on the head or as part of a helmet. (2 words)
2. Of or relating to sight.
4. A piece of electronic equipment.
6. A device used to control the action in some video games.
8. Theory; storyline.

Across

3. A small electronic device containing flash memory that is used for storing data or transferring it. (2 words)
5. The flat display of an electronic device.
7. A device that outputs a video signal or visual image to display a video game. (2 words)
9. A vertical handle that is moved to control the action in some video.

Extension Activity

Write a book premise.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- You are going to try to sell a book idea to a publisher.
- Think of an idea for a book that you could write.
- Write a paragraph about what the book will be about, why you want to write it and who you think will buy it.
- Read your paragraph to your group. Listen to the other ideas. Decide as a group which book you would like to publish.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I write a paragraph about a book I want to write and publish.

☐ ☐

I write about the content, the reason for the book and the audience.

☐ ☐

I read my premise to a group.

☐ ☐

I help choose the best book idea for publishing.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- flash drive (noun): a small electronic device used for storing data
e.g. She wanted her own flash drive.
- games console (noun): a device for playing a video game
e.g. She would spend hours on her games console with a controller or joystick stuck to her hand.
- joystick (noun): a control stick used to play video games
e.g. If you are good at using a joystick you will be good at playing video games.
- controller (noun): a device used to control the action in video games
e.g. If you lose the controller, we won't be able to play.
- optical (adjective): relating to sight
e.g. People are walking around wearing an optical head-mounted display.
- head-mounted (adjective): worn on the head or as part of a helmet e.g. A head-mounted light is useful when you are doing sports at night.

Learning Points

Time Clauses: As soon as, when and while

You use time clauses in complex sentences. These kinds of sentences have a dependent clause and an independent clause which are joined by a connector that refers to a specific point or period of time.

Common time markers that act as connectors are: as soon as, when and while.

As soon as refers to something that happens immediately.

For example:

As soon as I had my daughter, everything changed.

When refers to a period of our lives.

For example:

When I was a child, social media didn't exist.

While refers to a period of time.

For example:

While my daughter was growing, I found that she was becoming more and more unmotivated

Examples:

- As soon as we arrived in Jamaica, we went to the beach.
- When I was teenager, I hardly played video games.
- While I was studying in university, I discovered that I was becoming more interested in economics.

Learning Points

Review: The Simple Past and Past Continuous Tenses

Let's review these two tenses.

Refer to the chart for an outline of the uses and examples of the Simple Past and Past Continuous tenses.

Tense	Meaning/Use	Example
Simple Past	to talk about a completed past event to talk about two or more past completed events that followed each other to talk about repeated actions or events in the past	I finished my assignment early. I got up when the alarm clock rang. We visited the office three times last week.
Past Continuous	to talk about a temporary situation that existed at a particular time in the past to describe a situation that existed in the past	My head was hurting again so I took more medicine. She was getting into the car when she dropped her phone.

